	too many in the CP. Will have a controlled environment to on ground Nicolas Waller. Advised Chief Bell messaging on point, if Stabilization get done today. Will put a maintenance plan together. IC is here late last night, approving plan. PD plan is impressive. It is the core of this operation. They have considered it all. A few pickups with bikes arriving - all sorted out. Will need the cycling in and out due to weather. Bshue media - lots of police presence. 504 from 14 police forces offering to assist. We will take in for relief. Logistics a few obstacles - but under control. Awareness for command precisely what is on the ground.

1. The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm, humid air of the tropics. I shivered as I walked down the stairs.
 The ground was hard and uneven, and the air was thick with a strange, metallic smell. I had heard that the weather was bad, but I didn't realize it would be this terrible. The sky was a dull, grey color, and the clouds were heavy and dark. I felt like I was walking through a giant oven. The heat was unbearable, and I was sweating profusely.
 I had heard that the weather was bad, but I didn't realize it would be this terrible.

	Phil BERNIER - Pleas to Progress - ambitious expectations. Once we win ground - we need to kill to Police - Piper forcing - footprint to Ridgway & Sussex. Beyond trucks - set next component - close at McKenzie - Sussex etc. Officers are tired - as we take ground - Staffing says we don't have resources minimize Officer to officers, we have to continue to do that with other areas AC stepping them from walking across the road etc. More fencing - more bodies needed. Phil as we clear - harden areas. Fence areas = free bodies re-use bodies. We need to get down and discuss staffing 504 bodies we can mobilize

1. The first step in the process of creating a new product is to identify a market need. This is often done through market research, which can be conducted in a variety of ways, including surveys, focus groups, and interviews. The goal of market research is to gather information about the needs and preferences of potential customers, and to use this information to develop a product that meets those needs.

2. Once a market need has been identified, the next step is to develop a product concept. This involves creating a detailed description of the product, including its features, benefits, and target market. The product concept is then used to develop a business plan, which outlines the company's strategy for producing and marketing the product.

3. The third step in the process is to develop a prototype of the product. This is a physical model of the product that is used to test the design and to gather feedback from potential customers. The prototype is typically made from a material that is easy to work with, such as wood or plastic, and it is often made in a small quantity.

4. Once a prototype has been developed, the next step is to conduct a pilot test. This involves producing a small quantity of the product and selling it to a group of potential customers. The goal of the pilot test is to gather feedback from customers and to determine whether the product is likely to be successful in the market.

5. The final step in the process is to launch the product. This involves producing a large quantity of the product and selling it to the general public. The launch is typically accompanied by a marketing campaign, which includes advertising, public relations, and other promotional activities.
